Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 37-39, drawn to a method of preventing a circuit having a test mode entry function, classified in class 714, subclass 724.
 - II. Claims 52-53, drawn to a method of protecting a test circuit from receiving a subsequent latching signal, classified in class 714, subclass 726.
 - III. Claim 54, drawn to a method of preventing a test vector decode circuit from reentering a test mode, classified in class 714, subclass 724.

2. Inventions I, II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant cases as follows:
 - a. Invention I has separate utility such as a method of preventing a circuit having a test mode entry function comprising initiating a test mode blocking signal after the circuit completes the first test mode; this is a patentably distinct feature not found in inventions II and III;
 - b. Invention II has separate utility such as a method of protecting a test circuit from receiving a subsequent latching signal, this is a patentably distinct feature not found in inventions I and III;
 - c. Invention III has separate utility such as a method of preventing a test vector decode circuit from re-entering a test mode comprising making a re-entry into the test mode depend upon a change of an output vector of the test vector decode circuit; this is patentably distinct feature not found in inventions I and II.

See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Art Unit: 2117

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Christine T. Tu whose telephone number is (571) 272-3831. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon-Thur. 8:30am-6:00pm.
